First Half 1999 Newsletter

Inside this newsletter, you'll find our course descriptions and calendar for the first half of 1999. Thanks to your support, our training program continues to expand, and we've added some new, exciting classes to our program. We now have six instructors teaching classes at three different locations, and continue to offer everything from the most basic gun safety classes to advanced training for Texas carry permit holders.

Our core philosophy remains the same: To offer quality firearms and self-defense training at a level, cost and schedule that's accessible to the average person. That means half, one and two day classes, held on weekends and evenings, taught by the best local and national experts available. Even though many of those experts have strong military and law enforcement backgrounds, all of our courses are specifically oriented to the armed citizen.

While we offer many courses to improve our students' shooting skills, our defensive courses take an integrated approach. Real life involves situational awareness, communication, movement, use of different force options, and interaction with the police and courts. In order to teach the basics of these tactical skills in parallel with shooting and fighting skills, we make extensive use of structured, safely-run scenario exercises that simulate actual confrontations.

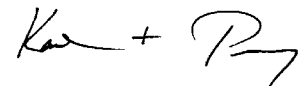

In 1999, we will also host some nationally-known instructors to expand our selection of courses. Greg Hamilton, who runs InSights Training in Seattle, will be teaching a Street and Vehicle Tactics course for us in February. Greg's impressive resume includes teaching at Gunsite, winning the National Tactical Invitational and years of experience as an Army Ranger. The Street and Vehicle Tactics class will be discussion and scenario-based and useful to beginners and experts alike.

Our other new courses are Home Defense Tactics and Beyond the Basics: Rifle, taught by Austin SWAT team member Michael McMillan. Michael is a sniper on the SWAT team and teaches building search techniques for the APD academy. We are pleased to welcome him to our regular training staff. We will also be bringing Stressfire instructor Wendell Joost back to teach Advanced Training III and a Defensive Shotgun class in the 2nd half of 1999.

In response to requests from students we have started carrying a small inventory of self-defense tools such as flashlights, holsters, and folding knives. We'll have these items available for sale during classes and we can also ship them to you. This issue also features ads from several related businesses. All of the companies advertising in our newsletter have given us excellent service and products in the past, and many of the business owners are graduates of KR Training courses.

In the past few months we've added a lot of new content to our web page, including photos from the fall Advanced Training and Defensive Shotgun classes. We update the web site monthly with new photos, articles and class information. We've added a What's New section to make it easy to find the most recent uploads. Our new address is www.krtraining.com.

As always, we look forward to training with you. If you have questions, feel free to contact us at the address, phone number and email addresses in the newsletter. See you in class!

COURSE INFORMATION

BASIC COURSES

Defensive Living. This two-hour seminar discusses basic philosophy and equipment for a defensive lifestyle: mental awareness, cellular phones, pepper spray, martial arts, home defense, folding knives, and the personal question of whether or not to own a firearm for protection.

Home Firearm Safety. This NRA course provides four hours of training on gun parts and operation, ammunition, safety, cleaning, storage, loading procedures and how to teach your children about gun safety. This course does not teach basic marksmanship. No range time or shooting instruction is included in the curriculum.

Defensive Living and Home Firearm Safety are normally offered for free or at minimal cost to civic groups, neighborhood associations, and small groups of students upon request.

Basic Pistol. This four-hour course is intended for people with little or no shooting experience. It covers basic safety, gun parts and operation, and fundamentals of marksmanship. Normally offered through the Texas Union Informal Classes (512-471-0270) by William Quiles at the Austin Rifle Club.

Women's Pistol. This three-hour course open only to women at the basic or intermediate level. It covers basic safety, gun parts and operation, and fundamentals of marksmanship. Loaner firearms are available, ammunition is an extra cost. $45

INTERMEDIATE COURSES

Beyond the Basics: Pistol. This four-hour course, taught by Karl Rehn and Penny Riggs, is normally offered through the Texas Union Informal Classes (512-471-0270) at Sanborn Shooters. It is intended for handgun shooters who want to improve their performance. Techniques will be presented for improving on the basic grip and stance to reduce perceived recoil, and increasing accuracy and speed on single and multiple targets. Additional information about local pistol competitions and gun clubs will be provided. Students should bring their own handgun, a belt holster, eye and ear protection, and a minimum of 100 rounds of ammunition.

Beyond the Basics: Rifle. This one day course is intended for people who are interested in improving their rifle skills. Curriculum will include instruction in shooting skills, equipment selection, and use of the rifle in hunting, competition, and self-defense situations. This course will be taught at Sanborn Shooters by Austin Police Dept. SWAT team sniper Michael McMillan. Equipment required: any centerfire rifle (magazine fed semi-automatic preferred, optics optional), and a minimum of 250 rounds of ammunition. $100.

CONCEALED HANDGUN LICENSE CERTIFICATION

For 1999, all KR Training CHL classes will be taught by Tom Schaefer at the Schaefer Training Academy. Both the new permit applicant and renewal courses will be offered monthly. Contact Tom Schaefer directly at 512-601-2057 to enroll. Mention KR Training to get the prices listed here.

Concealed Handgun License. A one-day course meeting the state requirements for training for the Concealed Handgun License. Tuition includes photos, notary and prints. If you believe that you lack the shooting skill to pass the CHL shooting test on the first try, contact us to schedule a Basic Pistol course prior to attending the CHL class. $125.

Concealed Handgun License Renewal. A four-hour course meeting the state requirements for refresher training for the Concealed Handgun License. Tuition includes photos, notary and prints. $60.

INSTRUCTOR CERTIFICATION

NRA Instructor Training. This 2-day class will certify you as an NRA Instructor in Home Firearm Safety, Basic Pistol, First Steps Pistol, and Personal Protection. Class includes lecture and range time, and your tuition includes the cost of a complete set of NRA training materials. Taught by Karl Rehn at Sanborn Shooters. $200.

Refuse to Be a Victim Instructor Training. Contact us if you are interested in becoming a Refuse to Be a Victim instructor. We are considering scheduling this NRA course for 2nd half 1999.

ADVANCED TRAINING

Advanced Training weekend. The AT courses were designed specifically for Texas CHL holders, and cover a wide range of topics including defensive shooting and tactics skills, alternate force options (martial arts, folding knife, and pepper spray), low light techniques, and interaction with witnesses, bystanders, police officers and the courts. Much of the training time in all three AT courses is spent in scenario-based training that incorporates verbalization, movement and tactics combined with use of appropriate force. Classes will be run at Sanborn Shooters. The prerequisite for any of the AT classes is a valid CHL or instructor approval. Taught by Karl, Penny, Glenn Garvey and John Kochan. $200 for AT-I, IA and II combined.

Advanced Training I. A one-day defensive shooting class teaching shooting on the move, rapid target acquisition, increasing shooting speed, drawing, speed reloading, use of cover, and developing proficiency with the handgun under stress. This course also includes sections on basic martial arts and folding knife techniques. You will need a centerfire handgun, belt holster, magazine carriers, spare magazines, and a minimum of 400 rounds. $95 if taken separately.

Advanced Training IA. A three-hour introduction to night and low-light shooting. This will include an indoor low light simulation exercise using Simunition FX marking cartridges. You will need equipment similar to that required for AT-I, plus a pushbutton flashlight and an additional 100 rounds of ammunition. $40 if taken separately.

Advanced Training II. A one-day defensive tactics class which complements AT-I and IA. This course incorporates mindset, martial arts, use of the folding knife, pepper spray, firearms, and verbal commands into a self defense system. Students will learn techniques for dealing with attackers, bystanders, arriving officers, and the legal and psychological aftermath of a shooting. The class includes many roleplaying exercises using Simunition FX marking cartridges, inert pepper spray, and other safe props against live opponents. This course does not involve any live-fire exercises. $95 if taken separately.

Advanced Training for Women. A one-day course taught by Penny Riggs, assisted by NRA instructor Mary Ann Sanborn at Sanborn Shooters. Live-fire drills are based on the AT curriculum but the course is open to women with basic shooting skills. Discussion will address gender- and size-specific considerations for equipment selection (including firearms, methods of carry, and alternative weapons). A Texas CHL is recommended but not required. Students will need a handgun and some way to carry it (holster, fanny pack, purse, "daytimer," etc.), spare magazines, a push button flashlight, and a minimum of 300 rounds of ammunition. $100.

Home Defense Tactics. This four-hour course deals with self defense while at home: specifically the techniques and risks associated with "clearing" your own home. This class will be conducted with non-firing dummy guns in a residence, and students will participate in roleplaying exercises simulating various threats including some in low light conditions. Course will be taught by Austin Police Dept SWAT team member Michael McMillan. Class is limited to 6 students per session. Texas CHL and completion of the AT series is encouraged but not required. $50.

Advanced Training III will be offered in fall 1999 by Wendell Joost and Karl Rehn. It will be an intensive live-fire handgun course covering one and two handed shooting from moving and awkward positions including "injured shooter" simulation. This class will include components of the Stressfire handgun curriculum.

Interested in a Team Tactics course? Contact us. We are considering offering a course in team tactics for civilians.

Private Lessons at any level of defensive or competition shooting are also available. Contact us for more information.

COURSES TAUGHT BY ADJUNCT INSTRUCTORS

Defensive Shotgun I. A one-day defensive shotgun class. Includes standing and kneeling positions, right- and left-handed shooting, shooting from behind cover, shooting at multiple targets, shotgun malfunction drills and generally developing proficiency with the shotgun under stress. You will need a shotgun (pump or semiauto, 12 or 20 Ga, sling recommended), 150 rounds of target load birdshot, 25 rounds of buck shot (#4 or OO) and 25 slugs. A centerfire handgun and 100 rounds of ammunition, belt holster, magazine carriers, spare magazines, and a push button flashlight are also recommended. Tuition includes a copy of Massad Ayoob's Stressfire II book. This course will be taught by Wendell Joost at Sanborn Shooters. $100.

Street and Vehicle Tactics. This two-day class deals with self defense while at work, in your automobile, when traveling, and while in public settings (restaurants, shopping, theaters, etc.). The course deals with the tactics that prevent confrontations (verbal skills, body language, and tactical positioning, minimizing target indicators) and with those necessary to win if the situation escalates to physical violence (use of cover, maneuver, knowledge of danger areas). The vehicle portion of the course includes drills to counter both road blocking situations and "car jacking." All situations will deal with post-crisis management: security and containment, witnesses, responding emergency personnel, and investigating officers. Course will be taught by Greg Hamilton of InSights Training. $300.

Have an idea for a course not listed? Let us know. Many of the courses listed above were added due to student interest.

QUALITY CUSTOM LEATHER PRODUCTS

I started Schaefer Leather Company in 1985 with the idea that I would make custom gear for hard to fit items. This was so successful that I now offer some of the more popular holsters and belts as production items.

That includes "belt slide" and inside-the-waistband holsters for most common makes & models (Colt, S&W, Glock, SIG, Kahr, etc), and made-to-order leather dress belts that will support the weight of a holstered handgun without looking like a piece of police duty gear. We also make Cowboy Action Shooting holsters and other accessories. If a standard design doesn't meet your needs, tell me what you want and I can probably make it for you. Our prices are competitive with any other mass production leather company with our least expensive concealment holster beginning at $20 and our high end police security holster retailing at $150.

Please remember, we currently have hundreds of friends and satisfied customers because they took the time to call and talk to us about their leather ideas which we turned into a reality for them at a fair and reasonable price. – Tom Schaefer

ABOUT OUR INSTRUCTORS

Our staff is composed of instructors with diverse experience including competition shooting, defensive training, martial arts training, military and law enforcement service. Our shooting instructors are certified by the NRA to teach Home Firearm Safety, Rifle, Pistol, and Personal Protection, and most are certified by the Texas Department of Public Safety (DPS) as Concealed Handgun License Instructors. They are also competitors in Practical Shooting, a sport with roots in the realistic, defensive use of handguns. Each year, our instructor staff members attend courses at other schools in order to improve our own knowledge and skills and expand our curriculum.

Karl Rehn is both an instructor and an active competitor. He has been teaching since 1991, and is a DPS-certified CHL instructor, USPSA-certified instructor for the Safe Handgun Competitor Program, and NRA-certified Instructor and Training Counselor in many disciplines. He has competed in Practical Shooting matches for the past 11 years, and holds a Master class ranking with the US Practical Shooting Association. He is certified as a Chief Range Officer by the NRA and National Range Officers' Institute and is a member of the American Society of Law Enforcement Trainers. Email Karl at rehn@krtraining.com.

He has attended firearms, folding knife and unarmed self-defense classes at many schools, including Lethal Force Institute, Thunder Ranch, Ron Avery's Practical Shooting Academy, Firearms Academy of Seattle, InSights, Tactical Defense Institute, Frank Benn's Integrated Arts, Austin Cha Yon Ryu, and Erik Remmen's NW Safari Group 9. He is the only civilian in Texas to be certified by Simunition as a Confrontational Simulation instructor. He has also taught firearms and roleplaying courses for both the Austin and Travis County SWAT teams.

Penny Riggs is also an active instructor and competitor. She is an NRA Instructor and Range Safety Officer, DPS certified Texas CHL instructor, and Thunder Ranch graduate. She has competed and won trophies in both DCM rifle and IPSC pistol disciplines, including class wins at 1998 Space City Challenge, Make A Wish Classic, and Coors/Taurus Paper and Iron Championship. She competed in multiple USPSA area championships in 1997 and 1998, winning slots to the Nationals in both years. In 1997 she served on the Education Committee of the Texas Concealed Handgun Instructor Association and completed the Level I CQPC course from Tactical Defense Institute in 1998. Email Penny at penny@krtraining.com.

William Quiles is an NRA member as well as an NRA Certified Pistol, Rifle, Personal Protection, and Home Firearms Safety Instructor. Besides being a recreational shooter and avid reloader for 9 years, he organized many shooting events at the Noblesville Gun Club while living in Indiana. William is also involved in the Martial Arts and currently holds a 1st Dan Black Belt in Tae Kwon Do. Email William at wquiles@texas.net.

Glenn Garvey is a black belt in the Cha Yon Ryu martial arts system, and assisted John Blankenship in teaching the martial arts self-defense course for the Texas Union Informal Classes. Glenn has also trained in other martial arts including aikido and stick fighting. He is an NRA Instructor and a graduate of multiple KR Training courses, including the Advanced Training series. Glenn teaches the martial arts and pepper spray sections of the Advanced Training courses. Email Glenn at glenn@krtraining.com.

Tom Schaefer recently retired as a Sergeant after 26 years with the Austin Police Department. In addition to his experience as a detective and patrol officer, he has instructed cadets at the APD academy in firearms, defensive tactics, and high speed pursuit driving as well as criminal law enforcement. He has degrees in both psychology and criminal justice, is an NRA Certified Instructor. He is an NRA member and has many years experience as a police pistol (PPC) competitor for the APD pistol team. He owns and operates both the Schaefer Training Academy, a private training facility near Lockhart Texas, and the Schaefer Leather Company where he manufactures custom leather gear. Tom can be reached at (512)-601-2057 or at tom@krtraining.com.

John Kochan is an NRA Certified Instructor and a Texas Concealed Handgun License holder. He is a graduate of many KR Training courses and has assisted with Basic Pistol, Beyond the Basics, and the Advanced Training weekend. He is also an active IPSC Limited class competitor and certified EMT. Email John at john@krtraining.com.

Michael McMillan is an active-duty officer with the Austin Police Department SWAT team. He has attended courses at Gunsite, Combative Concepts, and other academies and has extensive experience and training in tactical rifle, building search, low light confrontations, and team tactics. Email Mick at mick@krtraining.com.

GUEST INSTRUCTORS

Greg Hamilton is the Chief Instructor for InSights Training of Seattle, WA. He is also an Adjunct Instructor with Gunsite Training Center. Greg is a veteran of the United States Army Rangers and Special Forces. He has taught full time for John Shaw's Mid-Institute of Self-Defense Shooting and as an adjunct for John Farnam's Defense Training International. To perfect his own skills and to bring his students the best courses possible he has attended almost every private firearms academy in the country, such as: Jeff Cooper's American Pistol Institute, Massad Ayoob's Lethal Force Institute, The Ray Chapman Academy, The National Law Enforcement Training Center, Heckler & Koch's International Training Division, Clint Smith's Thunder Ranch, and Louis Awerbuck's Yavapai Firearms Academy. Greg's current Military assignment is as a reserve Instructor at the J.F.K. Special Warfare Center's Anti-Terrorism Branch. Greg was the fourth place finisher at the 1996 and 1997 National Tactical Invitational and won in 1998. Greg will be teaching a Street and Vehicle Tactics course for KR Training in Feb 99. Email Greg at gregh@insightstraining.com.

Wendell Joost is a former Marine Corps Armorer who has been an active instructor and IPSC/IDPA competitor in the Seattle area for the past 8 years. He is an NRA Training Counselor and Instructor for Home Firearm Safety, Pistol, Personal Protection, and Rifle, and was certified by Massad Ayoob as a Stressfire Pistol and Shotgun instructor. He is also certified as a range officer by the NRA and National Range Officers' Institute. His training background includes classes at the Firearms Academy of Seattle, (including retaking many classes weak handed) and training in defensive tactics with Dane Burns. He is a graduate of a number of regional and national level shooting schools, including the Lethal Force Institute, Insights Training Center and Jim Cirillo's Close Quarters Survival/Tactical Handgun Course. He has assisted the NRA with development of their web pages and with the new Personal Protection curriculum. Email Wendell at wendellj@oz.net.
