

FALL 2000 & WINTER 2001 NEWS

VOTE! The November election is an important one, not just because the presidency is at stake. Congressional seats and state and local positions are all being decided. In the past 5 years, citizens in Britain, Australia and Canada have all been subjected to gun bans as well as massive registration and licensing schemes. The next president and Congress will have the opportunity to nominate several new Supreme Court judges. If you value your rights to own firearms and defend yourself, drag every gun owner you know to the voting booth, and encourage them to vote for pro-gun candidates.

CONGRATULATIONS to KR Training instructors John Kochan and Kelli Mathiason, who got married October 7th.

We are now set up with Paypal.com to accept online credit card payments for tuition. As always, we're making changes to the web site, adding new content, including photos from major matches and other events.

THIS SPACE FOR RENT! Advertise your business in the next KR Training newsletter. The next newsletter will be a large course catalog, with detailed descriptions of courses, instructor biographies, and other information. We are accepting print ads in the newsletter. $10 for a 3 line, text-only ad, $25 for a business card sized ad, $50 for a 1/4 page, and $100 for a 1/2 page ad. Advertising with us is a good way to reach more than 1200 shooters and self-defense students in the Central Texas area. The deadline for ad submissions is Dec 1, 2000.

Advanced Training weekend. The AT courses were designed specifically for Texas CHL holders, and cover a wide range of topics. Much of the training time in the AT courses is spent in scenario-based training that incorporates verbalization, movement and tactics combined with use of appropriate force. Classes will be taught by Karl Rehn, Penny Riggs, Glenn Garvey and John Kochan.
AT-I, AT-IA, and AT-II together for $225. AT graduates may attend any course for half price as a refresher.

Advanced Training I. A one-day class teaching shooting on the move, rapid target acquisition, increasing shooting speed, drawing, speed reloading, use of cover, and developing proficiency with the handgun under stress. This course also includes sections on basic martial arts and folding knife techniques. You will need a centerfire handgun, belt holster, magazine carriers, spare magazines, and a minimum of 400 rounds. $100 if taken separately. Sanborn Shooters. Jan 27, 9-5.

Advanced Training IA. A three-hour introduction to night and low-light shooting. This will include an indoor low light simulation exercise using paintball marking cartridges. You will need equipment similar to that required for AT-I, plus a pushbutton flashlight and an additional 100 rounds of ammunition. $50 if taken separately. Sanborn Shooters. Jan 27, 6-9.

Advanced Training II. One-day class on tactics for violent confrontations. Includes roleplaying exercises using paintball marking cartridges, inert pepper spray, and other safe props against live opponents. $100 if taken separately. Sanborn Shooters. Jan 28, 9-5.

Tactical Advantage. A two day class taught by Gabriel Suarez based on his Tactical Advantage book. Course includes live fire and scenario based training for individuals and two person teams. Highly recommended for those with prior tactical training from us or other schools. Mr. Suarez is a prolific author on tactical training, a Southern California law enforcement officer and nationally known trainer. $320. Sanborn Shooters. Feb 10 & 11, 9-6.

AR15 Rifle. A six-hour rifle course focusing on the AR15-style rifle. Michael McMillan. $75. Sanborn Shooters. Feb 24.

Revolver Clinic. This one-day course will be taught by legendary revolver shooter Jerry Miculek. Class will include extensive instruction in gun handling and shooting skills specific to the double action revolver. $160. Sanborn Shooters. March 3, 9-6.

Competition Pistol Clinic. This one-day course will be taught by Jerry Miculek and Kay Clark Miculek. Jerry and Kay have numerous national and world titles in IPSC, Steel Challenge, American Handgunner World Shootoff, Chevy Truck Challenge and other events. Highly recommended for experienced competitors wanting to reach "the next level" in their abilities. $160. Sanborn Shooters. March 4, 9-6. Take both Miculek classes for $270.

Unarmed Self Defense I. A two-day course teaching a coherent system of techniques selected for their simplicity, effectiveness, and ease of learning. This simple system will give you fight stopping techniques that will work regardless of your size or strength. John Holschen of InSights Training. $300. Site TBD. May 19 & 20, 2001.
